

Name: _____

Date: _____

Soldier Letter Analysis

Date of the Letter: _____

Author of the Letter: _____

Audience/Recipient of the Letter: _____

Where was the letter written? _____

What details about soldier life does the author discuss?

How does the author feel about his home?

How does the author feel about his current situation?

September 5, 1918.

Joseph Lawton, Secorderiga, writes
from France.

Somewhere in France,
Aug. 4, 1918.

Dear Mildred, Clifford and all:

You will notice from the heading that I am now in France.
Last time I wrote to your mother and thought I would write you while awaiting some mail from the U. S.

I am in a small, ancient town of about 300 inhabitants in the south central part of France.
Weather is fine here. The day we arrived it rained, the first they had since March, so the crops have suffered some, but other parts of France I have seen are raising wonderful crops of vegetables and grains and every available foot of land is used. I am sleeping in a barn with four other chaps and it is not bad at all, with a good bed of straw. There, a thin partition, about a foot from my head, are 20 sheep, 2 goats and a horse and they sometimes make strange noises in the night and wake you up, but I soon expect to be able to talk their language.

Seems funny not to be able to talk with the people and you have to dig out your dictionary, motion and everything else and still I am a miserable failure, but am getting a few new words each day.

The people who own the barn where we sleep are very old and they have lost their three boys in the war.

There are plenty of Li boys over here if I knew where they were, will you try to get the address of Jeff Bennett, Joe Kulty and Gunning and maybe sometime we might run across each other.

Let me know if my traveling bag came back O.K. I sent it the day before we left camp.

Wish you would also give Sherm my address so he can write, as I do not know his

Shall be glad to get the Sentinel. wrap it pretty strong so it will come thru O.K.

There is a little mail coming in from the U.S. the last few days but I havnt received any. If you can also send the magazines now and then I shall be pleased to have them. There is nothing at all here in English to read.

am getting stronger each day now and my side only bothers occasionally, by swelling some

and fainting at times. It was reported aboard the transport that I was dead, some fellows even claiming they helped lower my body over the side. When I did get around the fellows looked at me as though I had returned from the other world. Very impressive to attend your own funeral.

Saw Hugh Moore! His company is quartered about 3 miles from here.

Well I guess I will close as I think of nothing more. We have to be in bed at 9:30 here (4 p.m. over home) and get up at 6 in the morning. We can get milk for 10 cents a quart and eggs are 80 cents a dozen. myself and another chap buy a quart a day and have an egg milk shake every night. We are allowed to drink wine over here but I don't like it at all.

You can get my address from the envelope and be sure and get everything on. Also put in the corner "A. P. O. no. 773" and this will get a quicker delivery. Write soon and often and I shall try
and do the same.

Love to all,
Joe.

Lawton Letter

Sept 5, 1918

Lawton Letter

September 5, 1918
Joseph Lawton, Ticonderoga, writes
from France.

Somewhere in France,
Aug. 4, 1918.

Dear Mildred, Clifford and all:

You will notice from the heading that I am now in France. Last time I wrote to your mother and thought I would write you while awaiting some mail from the U.S.

Am in a small, ancient town of about 300 inhabitants in the south central part of France. Weather is fine here. The day we arrived it rained, the first they had since March, so the crops have suffered some, but other parts of France I have seen are raising wonderful crops of vegetables and grains and every

[page 2]

Available foot of land is used. I am sleeping in a barn with four other chaps and it is not bad at all, with a good bed of straw. There a thin partition, about a foot from my head, are 20 sheep, 2 goats and a horse and they sometimes make strange noises in the night and wake you up, but I soon expect to be able to talk their language.

Seems funny not to be able to talk with the people and you have to dig out your dictionary, motion and everything else and still I am a miserable failure, but am getting a few new words each day.

The people who own the barn where we sleep are very old and they have lost their three boys in the war.

There are plenty of Ti boys over here if I knew where they were. Will you try to get the address of Jeff Bennett, Joe Nulty and [?]unning and maybe sometime we might run across each other.

[page 3]

Let me know if my traveling bag came back O.K. I sent it the day before we left camp.

Wish you would also give Sherm my address so he can write, as I do not know his.

Shall be glad to get the Sentinel. Wrap it pretty strong so it will come thru O.K.

There is little mail coming in from the U.S. the last few days but I haven't received any. If you can also send the magazines now and then I shall be pleased to have them. There is nothing at all here in English to read.

Am getting stronger each day now and my side only bothers occasionally, by swelling some

[page 4]

and paining at times. It was reported aboard the transport that I was dead, some fellows even claiming they helped lower my body over the side. When I did get around the fellows looked at me as though I had returned from the other world. Very impressive to attend your own funeral.

Saw Hugh Moore. His company is quartered about 3 miles from here.

Well I guess I will close as I think of nothing more. We have to be in bed at 9:30 here (4 p.m. over home) and get up at 6 in the morning. We can get milk for 10 cents a quart and eggs are 80 cents a dozen. Myself and another chap buy a quart a day and have an egg milk shake every night.

We are allowed to drink wine over here but I don't like it at all.

[page 5]

You can get my address from
the envelope and be sure and
get everything on. Also put in the corner "A.P.O. no. 773" and this will get a quicker delivery. Write
soon and often and I shall try
and do the same.

Love to all,
Joe.