My Dear Wife

Your last letter arrived in due course of mail. — I should have answered it before now only various circumstances have prevented. I have been here about a week. I find it a very comfortable place, large, cool and well ventilated. I expect to stay here until discharged. I am quite comfortable, suffer no pain of any account, have quite a good appetite, am taking no medicine, yet I am very poor and weak. I had to leave my tent on account of the heat. — I send you a little money. And if I do not come home soon will send you more. Give my love to all (have you heard from Andy) E Perry
